Inspiring all girls to be STRONG, SMART, AND BOLD
with a vision of empowered girls in an equitable society

Girls Inc. prepares girls to advocate for themselves and others, take leadership positions in the workforce and become full contributors in our community. Programs are offered at over 50 Orange County schools, Juvenile Hall, and in collaboration with other non-profit partners. Girls experience mentorship and support of staff and volunteers and participate in programs such as science, math, technology, early literacy, financial literacy, health and wellness, leadership, advocacy, and college and career preparation.

OUR SUCCESSES

JOYCIE, COLLEGE BOUND PARTICIPANT

College Bound starts with girls who don't think they even stand a chance to gain a higher education. Joycie was one of those girls.

After her father left her mother and herself a few years ago, they existed on her mother's dishwashing salary and moved very often, renting rooms in the crowded houses of strangers.

Joycie describes waiting at home behind a locked door for her mother to come home. Despite living like this for years, she found hope in College Bound.

She vividly describes her first tour on a college campus with our Girls Inc. College Bound program. She still has the worksheet they gave her.

She shared that in one of the college and career panels, a speaker said, "The beginning of your story does not determine the end of your story." Joycie took that to heart and now sees herself as a college graduate and an entrepreneur.

Joycie also put the hard work in to write essays and apply for a Girls Inc. National Scholar. She was so happy and surprised to be selected and receive $25,000.

ASHLEY, LITERACY LAB PARTICIPANT

Ashley, 8, struggled with reading and fell behind in school. She needed the kind of help her Spanish speaking parents couldn't provide.

She just started third grade at her Santa Ana school. Ashley's reading skills improved so much since joining Literacy Lab that she now checks out two or three electronic books at a time.

All that reading boosted her grades during the recently finished school year, even as many other students struggled with online instruction that was the norm for many during COVID-19 lockdown.

Ashley's mother, Patricia, said her daughter – who used to stumble over the printed word – now loves to read aloud to her parents and her 3-year-old brother "She's progressed a lot," said Muñoz, who cannot read English and spoke in Spanish through a translator. "She can pronounce more words, understand what she's reading, and express what she's reading."

Investment opportunities available from January – June 2023

ANNUAL DRIVES

YEAR ROUND

Throughout the year our girls are provided with incentives, program related materials, and other donations that allow them to thrive and learn in a safe space.
