Step 4: Create

- start building
- make it move and/or functional and get bonus points

In collaboration with the Melinda Hoag Smith Center for Healthy Living and the Family Resource Center, Girls Inc. is serving 150 elementary school students while their parents receive a variety of health, mental health, and social services.

With volunteers from partners like Boeing and Fluor, programs come to life.

Starting Early

Design a Robotic City

- Design and draw a city that has been taken over by technology.
- What would that look like?
  - the parks
  - the houses
  - the roads
  - the buildings
  - and more!

Because of you, Girls Inc. girls are:

- Learning to advocate for themselves and others. The Eureka! middle school summer program will be expanding into the school year with an advocacy focus.
- Learning healthy habits. Girls Inc. programs address the whole girl and prioritize physical and mental health.
- Preparing for high school, college, and beyond. Programs are offered from kindergarten through college, encouraging health, educated, and independent girls.

College and Career Ready!

College Passport takes high school girls on college tours to help them find the right school for them.
